Interior of log shack at Buffalo Lake, North of Stettler, where William Lemox, rich rancher, was mysteriously snatched on March 20th. He was found lying on the floor of the bed with his right elbow, while his left shoulder was to the window. The bullet, fired from the brush to the east, through the air, went through the window and hit the man in the back, causing a flesh wound. From there it passed to the head penetrating the throat below the lower left jaw and breaking the right lower jaw where it struck the bone. A second bullet was found next day by Corp. Davies at the point marked "C".

ENTERTAINMENTS.

—THE TYRANNY OF TEARS.

The Edmonton Amateur Dramatic Club last evening presented "The Tyranny of Tears" to a capacity audience in the Lyceum theatre. Continuous movement is essential to the success of the play, and the lack of verve from the acting of some of the players caused the performance to drag. The lack of verve, however, did not detract from the general interest of the play. The inspiration to bring the play to the Lyceum was the trophy awarded by the government of Alberta to the club talent, it is desirable that the members of the cast receive the same recognition. Mr. A. E. Nash, who appeared in "The Tyranny of Tears" as a clever detective, deserves credit for his work last night. His acting, however, might be improved if he would learn to restrain from dropping the ends of his sentences. Mr. E. Heynden, as the good physician, was good inasmuch as he showed himself to be thoroughly familiar with his profession and with marked clearness of articulation.

INSP. FITZGERALD AND PARTY DEAD

BOUND BOY, THEN FIRED BUILDING

Details of the last day of Port McPherson. Official Report Resches Regime—One of the Many Tragedies in the History of the Force.

Urgent. Sat., April 17.—A.G.W. M.P. charged with leaving Dawson City in charge of Corporal Denison on Tuesday morning, April 16, when he came across the bodies of Constables Kinney and Taylor some distance from Fort McPherson, and at a distance of twenty-five miles from the Fort, they discovered the bodies of Insp. Fitzgerald and his son and ex-Constable Hartland.

The above official information was received by Commissioner Perry at the R.N.W.M.P. station yesterday, and telegraphed from Dawson City yesterday. It is disputed, also, reports that information was received from Port McPherson that Sergt. Sargeant and his son, Hartland, two details were received by the commissioners of this tragedy, which is now being investigated by the Mounted Police Force. The Commissioner does not expect any further information until the report may be received from Dawson City.

Asked if he had any theory as to who was responsible for the killing, he stated he had not, but assumed that Inspector Fitzgerald, who had been away from Port McPherson to Dawson City with his party, must have got part way up the trail before he turned back to return for some reason, and that death had overtaken them before death had overtaken them before death had overtaken them.

Cop. Denison's patrol, which had been sent out in an effort to locate the missing men, had been returning the trip from Dawson City of Port McPherson and back again, a distance of about 100 miles, and in the course of the next forty-two days, the journey being entirely by dog train.

Inspector Fitzgerald was a Nova Scotian by birth, about forty years of age, and joined the force as constable over twenty years ago, thus practically spending his whole life in the service. He was throughout all the ranks and was appointed to the rank of constable. Inspector Fitzgerald had six of seven years service in the far north and his record was one of the best of the country, and had been of a very varied character. He accompanied Capt. Denison on the trail in 1897 and also accompanied the present senator Ross, in charge of the rescue of the Indians in the Peace River district.

Speaking to the Leader of the Interim, Commissioner Perry said he was a particular friend of northern Indians, and was a man of independent physique, and was looked upon as one of the best all-round citizens of the north. His sudden death cast a gloom over the best known in Edmonton.

Inspector Fitzgerald was well known in Edmonton and the districts of MacLeod and Bonnyville, and in the city, and also for a period at Wetaskiwin, where he was a member of the police force. He was a man of great personal popularity and was looked upon as one of the best all-round citizens of the north.

SODERBERG TRIAL AGAIN TAKEN UP

Only Peter Soderberg held yesterday afternoon—Man witness on the stand today—the Crown told of bullet wound.

Stettler, April 17.—Soderberg, sure of his innocence, and with undiminished interest on the part of local people, who crowded the courtroom, was again called to the stand yesterday when the entire prosecution was conducted.

His defence lawyers, Mr. Edward of Hungary, who occupied a seat beside him, and Mr. G. C. Moore, with deep interest. Only one witness, Capt. Davies, remained, and he was called to the stand this morning and then the court adjourned this morning, when President Judge of the R.N.W.M.P., Mr. J. E. Tweedie, said the trial would stand over until the 21st instant, and his hearing will begin at 10 a.m. on Monday and part of another sitting will be given on Tuesday. The cross-examination was carried directly on the main examination and for this reason the trial was adjourned.

Tweedie urged that the court go out to the scene of the murder in the afternoon, and the defence agreed.

The defence might see the tracks.

Brand thought that nothing would be gained by the examination.

"I did not see the road on the night when he was shot."

"He was on business for us," said the counsel for the defence.

"He was on business for us," said Inspector Worsley.

"It was the reply of Tweedie.

"The magistrate took him a minute," said Tweedie, "and he was right on the ground where he lay."

The magistrate then decided whether they will visit the scene of the crime, but if Tweedie insists they must go, he will give evidence of Davies to establish that he had seen tracks in the snow near the scene of the crime, and Brand had then pointed out to the detective.

The detective was called to show that the wounds of Lexton were caused by a bullet, but upon this he failed to give any opinion.

Mrs. Soderberg is out again today from the hospital and has completed her recuperation.

She is a particularly attractive young woman and receiving many compliments for her beauty. She is as strong as ever in protecting Soderberg's innocence.

"I am not questioning his word," said the detective.

"This was the ground where he lay."
